Artisan Leah Gormly, who got her start after stumbling into a local metal-smithing class, makes hammered metal accessories that are both edgy and exquisite. The three-dimensional, handcrafted pieces are created using old-fashioned techniques such as lost wax casting, producing an original work each time. Her just-launched men's line features cuff links, bracelets, and rings—all in the textural style we've come to love. Available at the Museum Store at the Dallas Museum of Art, 1717 N. Harwood St. 214-922-1256. www.lmgandco.com.
